APPENDIX E

CENSUS BUREAU DATA AS USED IN ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE ANALYSES

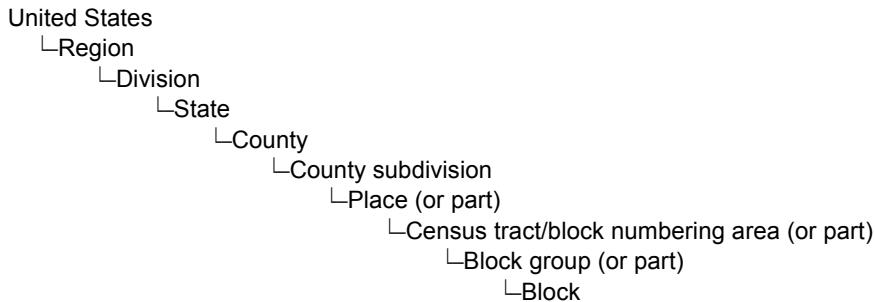

This appendix displays the data obtained from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Census Bureau, on populations near the proposed site of the spent nuclear fuel storage facility in Skull Valley, Utah.

The staff examined the geographic distribution of minority and low income populations within 80 km (50 miles) of the proposed facility, based on 1990 Census data. The sidebar box below discusses the types of data available from the Census Bureau. The block group data for the region of study around Skull Valley are shown in Table E.1.

Census blocks are the smallest geographic areas recognized by the U.S. Census Bureau that are bounded on all sides by visible features. A geographic Block Group is a cluster of blocks having the same first digit of their three-digit identifying numbers within a census tract or block numbering area. Block groups generally contain between 250 and 550 housing units, with the ideal size being 400 housing units. With some exceptions, block groups have the distinction of being the smallest geographic unit for which the U.S. Census Bureau tabulates long form (sample) data on items such as income, occupation, or education.

A block group is a statistical subdivision of a census tract. Geographic block groups never cross census tracts but may cross the boundaries of county subdivisions, places, urbanized areas, voting districts, and so forth. Tabulation block groups may be split to present data for every unique combination of county subdivision, place, and the like.

A hierarchical geographic presentation shows the geographic entities in a superior/subordinate structure in census products. Graphically, this is shown as:

Table E.1. Minority and Low Income Block Groups Within 80 km (50 mi) of the Preferred Site on the Reservation of the Skull Valley Band of Goshute Indians.

Table notes: Boldface values are 20 percentage points more than the state average. Italicized values are 10 percentage points more than the state average
